Melissa Santanello,
Chief Financial Officer
Global Benefits Group Inc.
902 Carnegie Center, Suite 100
Princeton, NJ 08540

Dear Ms. Santanello,

PwC US Tax LLP ("we" or "us" or "PwC") has prepared the U.S. Corporation Income Tax Returns Form 1120 and the U.S. Income Tax Return of a Foreign Corporation, Form 1120-F for Global Benefits Group Inc. ("you" or "Client") for the tax year beginning January 1, 2022 through December 31, 2022. We are providing the returns pursuant to the engagement letter dated May 24, 2023.

Filing Instructions

Enclosed with this letter is a Form 8879-CORP, IRS E-file Signature Authorization for Form 1120 and Form 1120-F, signed by PwC as preparer and electronic return originator ("ERO"). As ERO, PwC has e-filed your December 31, 2022 Federal income tax return to the IRS.

The individual signing these returns is ultimately responsible for the correctness of the returns. Please retain a copy of the returns for your records. There may be significant penalties and interest imposed by the IRS for the late or incomplete filing of the returns.

Caveats & Limitations

Your tax return was prepared from books, records, and schedules provided by you without independent verification by PwC and are based upon the representations, documents, facts, and assumptions that have been provided by you with the assumption that such information is accurate, true, and authentic.

As you are aware, for federal income tax purposes, IRC Section 6662(e) and the related regulations impose penalties in cases of substantial tax understatements attributable to transfer pricing adjustments. In accordance with the regulations, the penalties are equal to 20% or 40% of the additional tax assessed, depending upon the level of understatement. If the IRS determines that the tax reported on the return examined is understated, then penalties will be assessed unless a taxpayer has reasonable cause for the understatement and acted in good faith in establishing its intercompany transfer prices. The IRS has indicated that contemporaneous documentation is a relevant factor in determining whether the taxpayer has acted with reasonable cause and in good faith, particularly for transactions after April 21, 1993. As such, contemporaneous documentation is needed in order to avoid exposure to these penalties - as specified in the regulations under IRC Section 6662(e) - in connection with any tax return filed that includes transactions covered by these regulations. The regulations require that such contemporaneous documentation be in place at the time the return is filed and be made available to the IRS within 30 days of a request for such documentation in order to qualify for the exception to the penalties.

Global Benefits Group Inc.
October 20, 2023

The positions reached in these returns represent and are based upon our best judgment regarding the application of federal or state income tax laws arising under the Internal Revenue Code, judicial decisions, administrative regulations, published rulings and other tax authorities existing as of the date of these returns. The positions taken on the returns are not binding upon the IRS or the courts and there is no guarantee that the IRS will not successfully assert a contrary position. Furthermore, no assurance can be given that future legislative or administrative changes, on either a prospective or retroactive basis, would not adversely affect the accuracy of the conclusions stated herein. Matters concerning changes in the laws and regulations or its interpretation which may occur after delivery of the returns are outside the scope of our engagement.
